NATIONAL REVIEW

The Magazine of Noble Serbia

“SERBIA — National Review is a luxury bimonthly magazine in Serbian and English languages, in two separate and simultaneous publications. In terms of content, meaning and objectives, this is a project with a widest significance for Serbia. By exploring national heritage, culture, tourist offer, travels, symbols, ideas, cities, landscapes, people, brands and other phenomena in a trans-political manner — “National Review” reveals, both to Serbia and to the world, the beautiful face of Serbia. With a positive and creative view of life and the world, it restores old, strengthens the existing and creates new bridges.

Within its campaign “The Beautiful Face of Serbia”, several thousand copies of each edition of National Review is distributed free of charge to foreign embassies and consulates in our country, respected members of diplomatic core personally, foreign trade, cultural and other branch offices, foreign companies that operate in Serbia, accredited foreign correspondents..., mayors, presidents of municipalities, high state officials... Therefore, from the total circulation of 15,000 copies, 4,000 copies are distributed free of charge to the said VIP addresses, about 1,000 are given to sponsors, partners and advertisers, the remainder of circulation is marketed through the widest distribution network.

In addition to a large number of diverse and highly discerning readers, this top quality magazine has gained first-class business co-travelers, partners who, being the most successful in what they do, know why they have ensured their permanent place in SERBIA NATIONAL REVIEW.
